

What is an evaluation?

Title	Status	Start	End	Tester	Tests	Test objects	Actions
Vergleich E-Fahrzeuge	Published	11/17/20 12:00 am	11/24/20 08:00 am	4	2	2

An evaluation can be viewed as a collection of tests and itself contains only a limited amount of data such as a name, start and end, etc. In addition, templates for testers, test objects and categories can optionally be entered, which can then be used in a test. This saves you double work if the tests are structured similarly/identically. The status of an evaluation is automatically determined and displayed based on the status of the tests.
