

6.1 Change Test Object

Test objects are the subject of feedback and ratings given by the tester via the app. The term "test object" is variable and can be adapted and changed by the planner. Test objects are always part of a test. Each test contains at least one test object.

Under the menu item "Change test object" or the dropdown at the top of the display, you can find a list of all test objects that you can evaluate. Select a test object by clicking on the corresponding

